

Apr 1 30, 1890—Gsw

Republican conventions were held in various counties in Illinois, Monday evening, May 17, 1892. In Cook county, the delegates were: McHenry, Woodford, Grundy and Washington. In Madison county, the delegates were: Blaine, Woodford and Grundy, with four and five, respectively, instructed for Grant. Washington did not instruct, but the delegation is said to stand three for Grant and one for Washburne and Blaine. The result of the day's work, therefore, stands, Grant 12, Blaine 10, Washburne 1.

BOLTON AND THOMAS FATE.

Although the Republican party is only twenty-six years old, it has had its full share of trials. As early as 1864 a bolt was threatened against the second nomination of Mr. Lincoln, and though defeated but a few weeks and then smothered in the waves of oblivion, its chief promoters lost forever their standing in the party, and have never had any prominence since. In 1872 the second nomination of Gen. Grant was defeated upon the pretext for a bolt, and the schism of that year will ever be memorable in the annals of the party. The defection included some of the brightest lights and most able leaders of the party. Greeley, Sumner, Palmer, Davis and others of high standing, rebelled against the will of a large majority of the party, and fought its nominations with the keenest weapons at their command, but in vain. The choice of the majority of the party became the choice of the people, and the organization which has been at once the wonder and the pride of the age, moved forward with a new lease of life. The bolters of that eventful year have almost disappeared from public view; those of them who have neither died nor joined the Democratic party have fallen into disrepute and become the followers instead of the leaders.

The Republican party is the most liberal political organization that ever had an existence in this country. It tolerates the widest freedom of opinion and expression among its members, but while this is true it is at the same time jealous of its authority and exacting in its demand that every one of its members shall yield obedience to its lawfully expressed decisions. The very aims of its existence make this rule imperative, for the Republican party is not a conglomeration of spoils-seekers with no object but success; it is a popular movement having the establishment and perpetuity of free government for its main purpose. To the furtherance of this purpose all major considerations must yield; in comparison with it men are as nothing, the grand central idea of Republicanism being that the maintenance of its principles is paramount to every other object, and before this all-important object the mere ambitions of men sink into utter insignificance. In the opinion of the Republican party the principle that every citizen has a sacred right to vote unmolested, and to have his vote honestly counted, is of more importance than the personal ambitions of any man, no matter how exalted he may be. This idea of the inalienable importance of its political principles is so deeply implanted in the average Republican that he has no patience with those misguided men who would sacrifice success in order to gratify their own ambition or stake their throat for revenge. This is why bolters have been so summarily dealt with by the party in the past, and will resolve just as condign punishment in the future. Republicans are too much in earnest in the advocacy of their sublime principles to pay much heed to the complaints of those who are so poorly grounded in the faith that they must, in a selfish and narrow convention, oppose the bolters against them.

Remember, therefore, from the experience of the past, the men who are today indulging in the contemplation of a bolt will be as unconsciously dropped and forgotten as were their prototypes in 1864 and 1872. Good Republicans—and that kind, thank God, are in the majority—are in the habit of paying more attention to measures than to men, and when the nomination is made at Chicago, (while a laborer may drop out of the line here and there) the ranks will "close up," and when the grand election is made in November the bolters will find that their chances from the field counted for nothing at all. The bolters will be without count.

Use Washburne's Cream for meeting with success. For sale by Washburne & Co. 14-21w

From the Providence Journal. It is evident from the proceedings in the meeting in Chicago to elect delegates to the State Convention, that the opponents of General Grant in Illinois have used the name of Mr. Washburne as those in Massachusetts did that of Mr. Edmunds, while both Mr. Washburne and Mr. Edmunds are very emphatic in their preference for General Grant. It places those who are, or profess to be, admirers of these eminently respectable and worthy statesmen in a singular dilemma. If they have faith in their wisdom as statesmen, that wisdom tells them emphatically that the abilities and record of General Grant point him out conspicuously as the best candidate of the Republican party and the safest and soundest President of the United States, and they can not doubt either their ability to judge or their sincerity without giving away their own qualifications. There is no occasion to distrust either, and the men who have faith in them would show it more sincerely by taking their advice than by using their names in an attack upon General Grant, which must be false either in sincerity or in respect to the candidates whom they favor. The dilemma is unavoidable, and is not to be escaped by any faith in the mining coyness of either Mr. Edmunds or Mr. Washburne. They are not the sort of men to disguise it by insincerity when silence would answer every purpose, and if they were, it would be a disqualification absolutely fatal. It is an insult to them to suppose that they are not absolutely straightforward in their preference for General Grant, and, as we have said, it shows a want of respect in their judgment that their counsel is not followed.

The New Scheme.
New York Tribune.

The new democratic electoral scheme, for stealing the presidency under a pretense of a legal form, comes fully from a senator of the solid south. It is a typical specimen of southern bull-dozing, and the victim of the intended outrage is the will of the American people.

THE Council Bluffs Nonpareil, tiring of the twaddle about Grant having delegations from only Democratic States, says:

We will show where Republican votes come from, and demonstrate that the States that have instructed for Grant poll more Republican votes than those that have gone for Sherman and Blaine combined. Pennsylvania, New York, Texas, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, South Carolina, and Arkansas, polled 1,386,411 Republican votes in the last Presidential election, and they are all instructed for Grant. Maine, Kansas, Iowa, Oregon, and California polled 410,424 votes in 1876, and they are instructed for Mr. Blaine. Ohio polled 320,698 votes, and she goes for Mr. Sherman. Vermont is for Edmunds, and had 44,092 in 1876. Thus it appears that the States which have instructed for General Grant polled 1,836,411 votes, against 788,214 in the States which have instructed for all the other candidates combined.

THE current number of Harper's Weekly advocates the Hon. George F. Edmunds, the able United States senator from Vermont, for the presidency.

He is a man of spotless character, profoundly respected and trusted by men of all parties; of great ability, and of long experience in public affairs; a thoroughly-trained statesman; a party leader in the senate and in his state for many years, who has the undivided confidence of his party associates; a man of strong convictions, of judicial temperament, of forcible character, neither a demagogue nor a "boss," simple in manner, without conceit or bluster; a genuine American, who has established his remarkable capacity for the public service, and against whom as a candidate no republican of any view could raise an objection, and for whom the independent vote would be cast most gladly as a man singularly fitted for the chief magistracy. The nomination of Mr. Edmunds, who is not especially a "reformer," yet who has entire sympathy with the reform instinct of the party, would at once deprive the Democratic party of every campaign cry which they are hoping to raise against the republicans, and it would be the earnest that the republican party propose to continue the clean course of the present administration, which we believe to be heartily approved by the conscience and common sense of the country.

THE Saturday sensibly says: "Republicans can afford to differ, but least of all just now can they afford to fight each other. It is unwarranted, impolitic, and foolish. It is a losing game, and affords sport and capital for the enemy. Keep cool, play fair and all pull together after the nomination."

THE Chicago Tribune declares that it will not unless the Blaine-Washburne delegation from Cook county is admitted to the state convention. Well, that is a pretty strong temptation to the convention to shut out the Blaine-Washburne delegation entirely. Anything that will relieve the republican party of the presence and advocacy of the Chicago Tribune will be a God-send for the party. The Tribune for years past has been more injury to the party than it could possibly have been had it been recognized as a Democratic sheet. The state convention must do justice, however, even though the result should be to still farther indict the Tribune upon the party. —Bloomington Leader.

THE GREAT MILTON FIRE

TOLEDO, May 17, 1:40 p. m.—Wheat $1.19 cash; $1.17 May; $1.02½ July. Corn 42 cents.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 15.—Grundy county, which the Grant men have been conceding to Blaine all along, came to the front to-day and instructed its five delegates to Springfield to vote for the silent man. This was a very agreeable surprise to the friends of the General, while it shut up the Blaine camp in a cave of gloom. The few counties in the State which have not as yet held their Conventions, are all for Grant, and will instruct their delegates for him without an exception. The ninety-two votes from Cook county may go as they please now, they can have no effect upon the complexion of the delegation which Illinois will send to the National Convention. The attempt of Mr. C. B. Farwell and Mr. A. C. Heising to bring about a bolt at Springfield will be apt to prove abortive for many reasons. In the first place the county delegation, whether they are for Blaine or Washburne, will, under no circumstances, listen to the advice of Farwell or Heising. These two gentlemen are cordially hated in the agricultural districts, and their presence in Springfield as friends of Blaine and Washburne will assist very naturally in giving the Grant boom a fresh impetus. In the next place all the candidates for State office will fight against a bolt through thick and thin, and in the next place Grant's strength in the Convention will be no great that there would not be a particle of excuse for the handful of soreheads who they attempt to bolt. There is no reason why the Grant forces cannot afford to be as magnanimous as their great leader, and any reasonable demands will be acceded to without a murmur. There will not be a step taken that will give Mr. Farwell an inch of ground upon which to erect his proposed third party. The battle-ground of the campaign in Illinois will be removed from Chicago to Springfield on Monday. To-morrow night large numbers of the delegates and outsiders will leave. The great body of the immense crowd which it is expected will leave this city for Springfield will take its departure on Monday morning, while stragglers will go down Monday night, Tuesday morning and Tuesday night. At a meeting of the Grant men this afternoon every one of the ninety-two delegates answered to their names, and pledged themselves to be present at Springfield on Wednesday next. The meeting was called simply to transact some minor business, but it was very enthusiastic and the best of good feeling prevailed. Gen. Logan will be in Springfield early in the fight. He has not yet made up his mind as to when he will start. He has been offered proxies by the dozen, and will certainly appear in the Convention. He will talk, if talk is necessary, and if it isn't he won't. As telegraphed before, Charley Farwell will also appear in the Convention, and Boas Heising will be there if he can get a proxy. It is doubtful, however, whether he can get one.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., May 15.—A considerable crowd of politicians, delegates and candidates have already put in an appearance at the hotels. This evening there is much activity about the Leland. Hon. G. L. Fort and Clark E. Carr, candidates for governor, Hon. H. D. Dement, candidate for secretary of state, H. W. Wells of Peoria and James McCartney, of Fairfield, candidates for attorney general, arrived to-day and established their headquarters at the Leland. A number of delegates who occupy close relations to these candidates have also arrived. Hon. A. M. Jones, chairman, and Dan. Shepard, secretary of the state central committee, will arrive in the morning. Senator Logan will be here Monday morning. The local committee has been hard at work all day, making ready for the immense crowd that will surely be here during the week. The Palmer House delegation will have their headquarters and sleeping apartments at the old Chalmers House, while the Farwell Hall crowd will hold forth at the old state house. The Palmer House delegation will arrive in force on Tuesday morning. All the candidates are red-hot concerning the Cook county contest. The sentiment, as expressed to-day, is for a settlement of the difficulty by allowing each senatorial district in Cook county to have its delegation as indicated in their primaries. Some farcical settlement by the state convention, outside of Cook county, which would be about the same thing as to result. The disposition is to grant all sides a fair representation in the state convention.

SUNBURY, Pa., May 15.—The scene at Milton this morning beggars description. Nothing remains except the black and desolate ruins of the once prosperous town. The people spent last night in the houses left, and the rail works and the planing mill. The number of buildings destroyed is 638. The vaults and banks of the banks are uninjured. The people of the town are almost entirely destitute. Previous have been pouring into town from the surrounding country. The body of the man barnes has been identified as that of Mr. Angly. He was 35 years old. Mrs. Sticker died during the night from fright. The fire originated from sparks from the saw-mill attached to the ear works.

Eight hundred acres of woodland are now burning. More houses were destroyed this morning. Men are stationed along the line of fire to prevent it advancing. Immense fires are raging in Monroe county, N. J. Abraham Augency was killed and several persons slightly injured. At noon hundreds gathered around the planing mill, where food was distributed by the relief committee. Several car loads of provisions arrived during the day. An order was received from the treasury of the Philadelphia relief committee for $5,000, promising more.

Two hundred and fifty tents, forwarded by Gov. Hoyt, were erected in fields. Four car-loads of people went to Watertown to spend the night. Food was again distributed at the planing mill this evening, and persons worth thousands yesterday accept charitable relief this evening. Next distribution of food at 9 a. m. to-morrow. There arrived on the noon train thirty kegs of beer. Remonstrance was made against its delivery, and it was returned to the shipping point. At 5 o'clock this evening intense excitement was caused by two attempts to rekindle the fire. A bundle of rags saturated with fire was placed at the back door of the Great house, a wooden hotel—the only one left in town. When discovered it had set fire to the house. Another attempt was made to fire the old Cattawissa depot, in the southern part of the town. As soon as these discoveries were made the people were in a frenzy.

Col. Stead, of Williamsport, with two companies of militia, arrived to-night. A temporary postoffice has been erected and mail deliveries will be resumed in the morning. At the request of the citizens the railroad company has refused to run excursion trains to-morrow. The local relief committee has issued an appeal to the public. It says: "After careful personal inspection of the situation, we submit to the people of Pennsylvania and benevolent persons everywhere the following statement of the extent of the losses, condition of the inhabitants, and the aid that is necessary for the proper relief of the town. First, the losses by fire swept with total destruction, in the brief space of five hours, an area one mile long and half a mile in width, compactly built, and covering the entire business and best built portion of the town, and including with very few and minor exceptions of churches, stores, banks and manufactories, involving a loss of about $2,000,000; insurance only to the extent of $500,000 as nearly as can be ascertained."

SPRINGFIELD, May 16.—In addition to the delegates and candidates who arrived yesterday to attend the state convention, John M. Hamilton, of Bloomington, and Robert Bell, of Mt. Carmel, candidates for lieutenant governor, arrived this evening; also, Long Jones, chairman, and Dan. Shepard, secretary of the state central committee, to make the preliminary arrangements for the convention on Wednesday. This evening Hon. James Shaw, candidate for attorney general, and Gen. E. N. Bates, of the Farwell Hall delegation, put in an appearance at the Leland. There are in all present of delegates and candidates about fifty. The reports from all directions as gathered to-day, are favorable to Grant, and indicate that Illinois is positively his. The state central committee chairman and secretary figure 375 Grant delegates to the state convention outside of all contested delegations, but a more careful estimate put it at 360, majority of 11. The presidential question has been considerably discussed to-day, especially as it pertains to Cook county. The unanimous opinion, with the exception of Gen. Bates, of the Farwell delegation, is, that the Chicago contested seats will be decided by senatorial districts, and that the delegation will be admitted according to the vote of the district primaries, which will correspond with the call of the state central committee. Prominent Blaine and Washburne men here to-day concede this the best way to solve the difficulty. The sentiment so far is for giving Grant forty-two delegates solid, and that no weak or doubtful men will be allowed on the delegation. The convention will be thought, last two days. The first day will be taken up in disposing of the presidential question and the election of electors and the second day with the state ticket. There is a movement on foot to place E. B. Washburne and R. J. Oglesby at the head of the electoral ticket as electors at large. The metropolitan press will be well represented. Rooms have been engaged at the Leland for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Tribune, Times, Inter-Ocean and Evening Journal of Chicago, and for the New York Tribune.

The midnight up-train brought in a number of southern Illinois delegates and co-lookers, and the approaching convention was the sole topic of conversation. Gov. Palmer, who had been down in Macoupin fence mending, returned to-night, and gives it as his impression that Grant is sure to carry the convention, and wishes he was as confident of his own success with the democrats. It is evident that the military element purposes to make its influence felt, and this fact induces some trepidation among state candidates without military record.

Gen. Erasmus N. Bates, formerly state treasurer, afterwards a greenback leader, and now presuming to return to the republican fold, is the only Blaine leader here yet, but he expects to be joined to-morrow by Charley Farwell. It is evident, however, from the conversation of steadfast republicans that neither of these leaders will have an atom of influence. Heising has rooms engaged in the name of his son, and after all may only appear by proxy.

Southern Illinois delegates say Chicago will first be afforded an opportunity to fix her own differences prior to assembling, and if she is not quick about it the convention will interpose and dispose of the whole matter in short order. It is manifest that the rest of the state is impatient of the purely personal bickerings of Chicago politicians. Such is the essence of the talk of the advance guard delegates.

CHICAGO, ILL., May 16.—The Times (Anti-Grant paper) publishes three tables this morning giving the vote of Illinois by counties. The first table gives the Blaine-Washburne figures, the second the Grant figures, and the third is its own compilation as reported. The total is, Grant, 230; Blaine, 270; Washburne, 108. This table Cook county gives 34 for Blaine and 56 for Washburne. The counties of Ford, Calhoun, Washington, Stark and Mascare are yet to hear from. The second table, compiled on the statements of Grant's friends, gives Grant 201, Blaine 169, Washburne, 31. In this table Cook county is counted solid for Grant, and Washington and Mascare are included. The third table, which the Times states is more worthy of confidence, gives Grant 320, Blaine 248 and Washburne 105. In this table thirty-four of the Cook county votes are given to Blaine and fifty-eight to Washburne. The Times says, "Not counting the 92 votes from Cook or the four votes from Greene, both of the delegations being contested, it will be seen that Grant has a majority of 73 votes." This majority practically constitutes the jury which is to decide which of the contesting delegations shall be admitted, and the decision of that matter will practically settle the complexion of the delegation to the national convention. At the Grant headquarters and from the best advised authorities, your correspondent has been placed in possession of the following figures, which are probably the most correct yet published. Counting 41 votes from Cook, the Grant men claim positively that they have 414 votes in the convention. Outside of the remaining 51 from Cook to be divided between Washburne and Blaine, the vote will stand, Blaine, 191; Washburne, 23; Grant, 41. This count, Ford, yet to be heard from. Ford has four votes and Stark has four, neither of which will instruct for Grant. The Tribune, this morning concedes that Grant will control the state convention, and protests against an instructed delegation from Grant from Illinois. A large number of Grant, Blaine and Washburne men left for Springfield to-night. Senator Logan was at the head of the Grant men, and Charley Farwell escorted the Blaine-Washburne crowd. The bulk of the forces will go down to-morrow.

Ought to Be Talked To.
Evansville Journal.

Somebody ought to take the Chicago republican papers in hand and give them a few lessons on insubordination. At the rate they are going it will be impossible to nominate any candidate in that city. They are stirring up more strife than all the peace-makers this side of the new Jerusalem can possibly allay.

JAMES DODSON, the peddler, who was arrested in this city some weeks ago by Clinton officers for burglarizing a farmer's house in De Witt county, and who has been in the De Witt county jail ever since his apprehension, will be brought to Decatur this evening by Sheriff Postmayor on a writ of habeas corpus, and to-morrow Sheriff Woodman, of Clinton, will be made to appear before Judge Smith and show cause why he holds the prisoner in custody. Lee & Walker will appear on behalf of Dodson, and endeavor to secure his release. If they fail, the prisoner will be returned to Clinton, where he will have to stand a trial on the charge named.

The May number of Stapp's Chapel Herald, edited by Rev. G. W. Miller, was issued from this office on Friday evening last. It is a most excellent number, containing many able original articles of general interest written in an attractive style, among which may be mentioned "General Conference," "Jewish Funeral Rites," "The Christian Pastor," "Robert Baikes, the Founder of Sabbath Schools," "Where Are the Children?" "Rest and Recreation," "The Temperance Cause," "Putting off Repentance," "Prayer Meeting," and compositions of live interest to the Stapp's Chapel congregation in particular. The Herald is one of the best church papers that we have seen, and is worthy of careful perusal.

THE assault case of the City vs. Mr. and Mrs. John Hollerlin came up before Justice Peake on Saturday afternoon, as announced in these columns. Lee & Walker appeared for the defendants and Harvey Pease, Esq., for the prosecution. The trial proceeded, but the prosecution failed to introduce the city ordinance bearing on the matter on trial, and the justice was compelled to discharge the defendants. If Mr. Hollerlin will take pains to keep his chickens on his own premises, and cease using a hoe in stabling around hereafter, in all probability he and Mr. Chappel will live in peace in the future, and have no cause to come before a justice to settle their difficulties.

DR. J. N. BULLS, who despises gravel walks, is having a four-foot wide plank walk put down on the east side of South Water street, from the county clerk's office south to Wood street. Orlando Powers furnishes the lumber and the Doctor pays for the labor. The plank walk is put down in order to induce people to walk on that side of the street, and they'll do it now.

THE Pat Rooney New York Star Combination gave the same old programme at the opera house on Saturday night, to a fair audience. The entertainment was richly enjoyed by all in attendance, though it would have been more highly appreciated had some new features been introduced. The same old thing gets monotonous in time. Pat Rooney opened at the Comique at St. Louis for a week on Sunday afternoon.

JAMES BROWN, of the Wabash, put up his $45 gold watch bought at Curtis & Ewing's some time ago, at a raffle at $1.00 a number Saturday night. Fifty numbers were sold, and at the drawing which took place at Colladay's billiard parlors, Attorney I. D. Walker, won the prize, No. 9 being the last ticket taken out of the box. Walker set up the cigars, and put up his silver watch at 25 cents a number, and W. F. Colladay won it.

THE Railroad Y. M. C. A. services at the Union depot yesterday afternoon were well attended by railway men and those who feel and take an interest in this branch of work. Services next Sabbath will be conducted by an Indianapolis railway man who will give an account of the work and benefits received by railway men in that city through the Y. M. C. A., which will be particularly interesting to that class of laborers.

AMONG the articles not mentioned heretofore, to be voted away at the hospital fair and festival at the tabernacle this week, is a large fruit cake and a beautiful ring cake, the ring being donated by Abbott & Cloyd, jewelers. Those having any contributions to make, are requested to leave the same with the ladies at the tabernacle.

SUNDAY morning a Springfield excursion train of nine coaches packed full, passed through Decatur en route for St. Louis. The excursionists, on their arrival in this city, made a raid on Col. White's lunch stand and cleaned it out in a jiffy. The train passed this city on its return trip at a late hour last night. The fare was $1.50 for the round trip.

JAMES HOY, the young man who was adjudged insane before Judge Greer, last week, was taken to Jacksonville this morning by W. J. Magee, for medical treatment at the state asylum. Hoy's friends have strong hopes that he will be cured of his bad habit, and be returned soon healthy and in his right mind.

THERE was a good crowd out at the tabernacle Saturday night to hear an excellent temperance address by Elder W. F. Richardson, of Assumption, and select readings by Miss Annie Culp. The meeting lasted about one hour, and was very much enjoyed by those in attendance.

THE TUCULO Review of the 15th instant says: "The night fast express trains are to be put on the I. D. & S. Ry. on Monday night next. The train going west will run in connection with the Wabash for Saint Louis and Quincy, and the one going east will connect with the early trains leaving Indianapolis."

CRIMINAL court met at 1 p. m. pursuant to adjournment, Judge Smith presiding, when the counsel proceeded to present arguments in the case of Turpin vs. Turpin, an action brought by the wife for separate maintenance.
THE best double lounge in the market is now on sale at P. B. Provost & Son's furniture store.

The Guards' Reception.
The invitations for the Decatur Guards' reception at their armory hall next Thursday night, were sent out on Saturday last. This fashionable affair promises to be very largely attended, and will certainly be one of the grandest and best dancing parties yet given. The several committees named below are actively engaged in making preparations for the event:
Arrangements—Lieut. F. W. Wimmer, G. R. Dodson, Corp. C. H. Walters, W. A. Rogers and S. C. Sloan.
Invitation—Sergeant J. G. Stauffer, Corp. H. G. Boyer, Corp. W. F. Coladay, Frank Curtis and Al. Leach.
Reception—Lieut. W. H. Elwood, Sergeant R. H. Boyd, T. P. Roach, L. A. Johnson and G. Stafford.
Floor Managers—J. M. Ehrman, S. Provost, P. H. Bruck and H. Scanlan.
Prof. Goodman's full orchestra will furnish the music, and choice refreshments will be served in the hall, party fashion, by the Guards.

The Athletes.
F. A. Wells presided at the regular meeting Saturday evening. Minutes read by Secretary Martin promptly adopted. Program—"Exceller," oration by J. W. Carter. "People Will Talk," recitation by Miss Anna Farrell. "Regulus to the Carthaginians," oration by A. V. Andrews. "Charge to Jury," by Silas Lowry, the question, "Resolved, That the European Powers Should Exterminate Turkey," was clearly debated by Miss Louise Meister and Virgil L. Hostetter in the affirmative, and A. V. Andrews and Cyrus Randolph in the negative. Walton Hedges, chairman of judges, decided in favor of the negative. George I. Henderson delivered a first-class criticism.

Boys on the "Pavement."
Commencing last week the Chicago and Northwestern railway put in operation a new set of rules for the modification of the law-abiding, nut and fruit nuisance on their trains. By the new rules the train boys on that road are not allowed to personally address strangers, but they may announce in a low tone, not more than three times in each ear, the articles they have for sale. They are forbidden to deposit books, papers, autos, etc., on the laps of passengers, or on the seats, and they are not allowed to peddle their goods after 8 p. m., nor are they allowed to go through the train often more than once in thirty miles. Prize packages and gambling devices are forbidden entirely. It is hoped that the same rule will be adopted on all railroads.

Contraction Ceremonies.
The Right Rev. Bishop Baltes, of this, the Alton Diocese, was in the city on Sunday, and very large congregations assembled at St. Patrick's Catholic Church and at St. James' German Catholic Church. The Bishop administered the right of confirmation to about 125 persons, most of whom were children, who were dressed in white and wore blue sashes. The Bishop is a very dignified gentleman, and is much revered by his people.

Library Notice.

"VOLTURO," the crack running horse of the West, owned by S. Powers & Son, this city, made another brilliant race at Lexington, Ky., on Friday last, in a 2 1/2 mile race, winning the race by a length, and a purse of $300. Volturo was the favorite in the pools from the start. Following is the associated press report of the race:

The result justified the judgment of Volturo's backers. At the top of the drum Jis Johnson opened the running and kept up his lick for two miles. When the horses passed the judges' stand the third mile and were entering upon the last mile Jis Johnson was near twenty lengths in the lead, Volturo lagging behind. Putting on steam the latter began closing the gap slowly, but surely, being a mile Volturo came abreast of his rival and ran him even to the three-quarter pole, when he drew gradually ahead, a certain winner. Jis Johnson received the whip, but the gallant son of Longfellow had made his run. Under a pump he kept up his lick until Johnson fell within a few jumps of the goal, when Murphy let him out and enabled him to win by a length. Jis Johnson second, War Lass a bad third. Time, 3:51.

DURING his leisure hours the past winter, Mr. Charles Adams, who resides in the fifth ward, has been employing his time in building a full-rigged ship, a perfect beauty, and he has named her "Grace Estelle" of Decatur. We had the pleasure of examining the ship this forenoon, and though we never sailed the ocean blue, as Mr. Adams did for a period of 15 years, before coming to Decatur 35 years ago, we readily agree with Librarian Dick Evans, a first class judge of everything pertaining to the navy, that the ship is faultlessly constructed and a credit to the builder. The ship, full rigged, will probably be anchored in the fountain basin on July 4th, in order that the public may see it.

CONSIDERABLE probate business was attended to by Judge Greer in the county court to-day. The claims came in lively, and many persons had to wait their turn just like they do at a popular barber shop.

DEADLINE are paying 1 to 1 1/2 cents per pound for rags; 40 cents per 100 pounds for move iron; 60 cents per 100 for machine castings, and 50 cents per 100 for wrought scrap iron. These prices do not change materially.

ATTENTION, Excursionists! Tickets to the Cincinnati Musical Festival over the I. D. & S. Ry. will be good from May 18th to 24th, inclusive. Fare for round trip, $6. Passengers can leave Decatur at 7 p. m. on the 24th, and arrive at Cincinnati on the following morning. Remember that excursion train leaves Decatur at 11:40 a. m., May 18th.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Mrs. B. Overmyre is home from her visit to relatives and friends at Jacksonville.
J. W. Walker and wife, of Mason, and Squire Pritchett, of Niantic, were guests at Priests' hotel to-day.
Willie McNabb, the old square undertaker, gave us a short call this morning.

Fred. G. Thearle, Jr., of Chicago, arrived in the city on Saturday and registered at the St. Nicholas.
Judge Smith, being a Champaign county Blaine delegate to the state convention, will adjourn court to-morrow afternoon until Thursday morning.

Charles Martin is now a polite and affable salesman at S. T. Keeler's popular hat store. Keeler's business, we are glad to note, is on the boom.
Mrs. Charles Laux has donated to the hospital fair and festival a costly necklace and cross which will be voted to the most popular young lady at the tabernacle this week.
Edgar F. Ewing left for Louisville this noon, to be present at the races which take place there this week. Vorturo is entered for the cup, and will win it if he is in good time.

Mrs. G. C. Barker, of Gipsom, Ill., and Mrs. W. W. Johnson, of Tusculum, who have been the guests of Miss Bessie Lary for the past week, departed for their respective homes this noon.
Rev. Dr. C. Tomlinson, who has been delivering a series of sermons at the Universalist church the past week, departed for Chicago this morning. His addresses on Sunday brought out fair congregations.
Geo. A. Brown, of the big barber shop on Water street, favors us with two copies of Concord, N. H., papers, which any person hailing from that part of the country are at liberty to peruse at their convenience.

Jacob Shrader, nephew of Ald. E. McNabb, who has been in the gold mining business in California for the past twenty years, and W. W. Shrader, of Springfield, were in the city on Sunday, visiting relatives and friends.
Dr. Cass Chenoweth and Dr. A. R. Small, of the Macon county Medical society, left this afternoon for Belleville, as delegates to the annual meeting of the Illinois State Medical Association, in session there Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Miss Mamie E. Wyman, of Keokuk, Iowa; Miss Kate Weaver and Mr. W. H. Smith, of Urbana, Ill.; Mr. E. B. Bufum, Great Falls, N. H., and Mr. G. I. Brown, of Peoria, were in the city on Friday and Saturday, guests of Mrs. Dr. H. C. Johns. They attended the Little concert Friday night and enjoyed it hugely.
Dr. Goodwin writes us from Cincinnati under date of May 14, that he is now stopping with his family at the Indiana House, and intended spending Sunday at Brookville, Ind. Referring to the election of the Bishops he says the selections suit him with one or two exceptions, and concludes, "Illinois conference got no office—too many big men in it."

Miss Eva Pratt, of Conn., who for the past year or more has been visiting her aunt and her uncles and her cousins in Decatur and Prairie City, Iowa, took her departure for home last night. She was accompanied by her cousin, Miss Effie Pratt, and her aunt, Mrs. Ryan, both of Prairie City, Ia., who intend making a four or five months' visit in Connecticut.
We notice in Saturday's Tusculum Journal, that A. H. Varney, late head clerk at Priests' Hotel, and an old time hotel man of Decatur, has obtained control and taken possession of the Belvidere House at Arcola, at the junction of the Illinois Midland and Chicago Branch of the Central railroads. He will be pleased to receive any of his Decatur friends who may give him a call when at Arcola.

We are not in the habit of making mention of the great quantities of goods that we display in every department, but we wish at this time to say that when we advertise choice lines or a great variety of Ladies' Hosiery, Corsets, or in fact any of the leading articles most generally in demand in a first-class establishment, we have them to show, and can offer our customers the choice lines and great variety, as promised. We do not try to palm off one or two boxes of one, or a dozen or two of the other as choice lines or immense assortments. We carry an immense and choice line in fact, and our prices cannot fail to suit. Remember that outside of dress goods we carry everything pertaining to a first-class Fancy and Ladies' Furnishing Goods and Notion House. See our advertisement.

An old man giving his name as William Poole, hailing from Arcola, is in the city cooler on a general charge of petty thieving. He was discovered by Officers Kearney and Mason to be selling bacon, hams, baking powder and glass tumblers at ruinously low prices, and they took him in, believing that he had stolen the goods from one or more of the stores in the city. Poole claimed that he got the meat on an order from a brick mason from Chas. Advertiser's grocery store on North Water street, but investigation this morning by the officers proves that Poole has been guilty of perjury of the worst kind. The police would like to hear from dealers who have missed any of the above-named goods. Meantime Poole will be held in custody.

PASSENGER and mail train No. 5, on the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railway, will arrive in Decatur hereafter from the east at 8:05 p. m., instead of 8:30, as heretofore. This is the only important change in the new Wabash time card which took effect at noon on Sunday.

On May 18th the Wabash, St. Louis and Pacific railway company will sell round trip tickets from Decatur to Cincinnati on that road for $5.00, tickets good to return until May 21st. Cheap enough.—Take in the May festival and "do" the "Paris of America."

NEXT Sunday there will be a cheap excursion over the P. D. & E. road from Mattoon to Peoria. Round trip fare from Decatur to Peoria, $1.50. The train is announced to arrive here at 8:40 a. m., and return at 8:20 p. m.
